

The Story of ARAMARK Ireland

Our Story

ARAMARK Ireland is a company with a long and proud tradition. For close on half a century, ARAMARK Ireland has been at the heart of business life in Ireland.

The company we are today – employing over 4,000 people the length and breadth of the country and providing essential services to more than 400 companies across the island of Ireland, has evolved from humble beginnings.

That we are now one of Ireland's most successful companies is testament to the leadership provided by past and present company management and the dedication of all our employees.

Our story is an interesting one, bringing together over the years companies in different but complementary sectors; but all with a similar mission - to enable private companies, business organisations and public sector institutions to become more efficient by delivering services which are essential to their successful operations but are not their core business.

These companies – Campbell Catering, Vector Workplace & Facilities Management, Irish Estates and Glenrye, all had an individual heritage but their combined strength as ARAMARK Ireland has quietly revolutionised the professional services market in Ireland.

As part of the global ARAMARK Corporation, which operates in 22 countries around the world, ARAMARK Ireland has the advantage of an Irish management team with in-depth local market knowledge and understanding, backed by the resources and expertise of a worldwide leader.

Our Heritage

in great company.

From such inauspicious beginnings, in 1967, Campbell Catering grew to become Ireland's largest contract caterer.

In 2005, Campbell Catering became part of the ARAMARK Corporation and continued to grow from strength to strength building on the resources and expertise of its global parent.

Today we serve over 250,000 people every day in multinational companies, hospitals, Government agencies and businesses throughout Ireland.

The success of the Irish business led ARAMARK Corporation to give its backing to local management to acquire the business interests of Veris plc in 2009. This strategic acquisition brought Vector Workplace & Facilities Management and Irish Estates & Glenrye into the ARAMARK Ireland fold.

Vector, Ireland's largest facilities management company, was founded in 1999.

Like Campbell Catering, Vector grew its reputation for being best in class in the delivery of services to national and international companies and organisations. Through organic growth, merger and acquisition Vector has expanded its business and today employs over 400 staff in 12 countries.

Irish Estates was incorporated in 1946 as a subsidiary company of Irish Life Assurance Company. Its main activity was the design and construction of commercial and residential property for investment purposes. By 1956, the company had diverted its focus to property management.

Glenrye, was founded in 1999 and provides specialist property services to major retail projects including Dundrum Town Centre.

The acquisition of the business interests of Veris plc by ARAMARK Ireland in 2009 has brought together in one company, market leaders in their respective fields, who together are providing an unrivalled integrated offering to Ireland's professional services market.

From February 2011, these well established businesses will begin to trade under the ARAMARK name as follows:

- ★ ARAMARK Workplace Solutions
(formerly Vector Workplace & Facilities Management)
- ★ ARAMARK Food Services
(formerly Campbell Catering)
